Linklaters

ciarb. London Branch

LCIA Arbitration and ADR worldwide

Arbitration in 2030: What Will Change?

The LCIA and the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (CIArb) London Branch are pleased to invite you to our joint annual evening seminar, this year on "Arbitration in 2030: What Will Change?", taking place at Linklaters on 16 November.

The discussion will explore how major developments, including the rapid advancement of AI and evolving legal and arbitral frameworks, are shaping the practice of arbitration and what these changes may mean for practitioners and users in the years ahead. We will also consider the potential implications of the LCIA Rules revision as part of that wider discussion.

There will be a fascinating panel discussion featuring:

> Kevin Nash (General Director, LCIA)
> Wing Shek (Deputy Registrar, LCIA)
> Marie Berard (Head of International Arbitration, Clifford Chance)
> Sophie Nappert (Independent Arbitrator)
> Sir Christopher Vajda KC moderating on behalf of CIArb.

Welcoming remarks by Jacqueline Chaplin (Counsel, Linklaters | CIArb London Branch Committee Member).

Event details:

In-person only | Click here to register

Date: Monday, 16 November 2026
Venue: Linklaters, 20 Ropemaker Street, London EC2Y 9AR

Registration: 18:00
Seminar: 18:30–20:00
Networking: 20:00–21:00

linklaters.com

Linklaters, LCIA and CIArb are jointly hosting this event and are the so called 'joint controllers'. We will therefore need to share some of your details, specifically your name, organisation and attendance details, to organise and conduct the event and manage your attendance. Linklaters, LCIA and CIArb have agreed their respective responsibilities for compliance with the obligations under the data protection law. Linklaters is a designated point of contact for data subjects, is responsible for providing the fair processing information, responding to data subjects' requests and dealing with personal data breaches.

CD1054_X10.26