MANIFESTO

Dear Chartered Institute of Arbitrators London Branch Members,

I am grateful to have been nominated to stand for this election.

If elected, I hope to offer to the Committee the following:

1. Diversity and inclusion. As an international female professional, I can bring a unique perspective to improve diversity and inclusion in all fields of dispute resolution and to continue to attract a high-quality, diverse membership. Based on my own journey in arbitration and ADR in particular relation to the construction and engineering industries, I would like to support all levels of experience, including aspiring ADR professionals, and diverse backgrounds through the opportunities that I can find within the Committee.
2. Fresh ideas and perspectives. I can bring fresh ideas from a perspective of the dual qualified professional to represent the Branch members including both lawyers and non-lawyers.
3. Seminars and networking events. With my experience to date in organising international seminars for Society of Construction Law (Korea), I would like to contribute to high quality international events across a range of legal and non-legal areas. I am particularly interested in increasing opportunities for the CI Arb London Branch members to actively participate in seminars and events relating to all ADR processes in the UK and internationally.
4. Training and education. It has taken me years of education and practical experience to become a Chartered Quantity Surveyor, construction practising quantum expert, adjudicator, arbitrator and certified expert determiner. Based on my training and experience to date, I would like to work with the London Branch Committee Members to provide more accessible training.
5. International network. I would like to share and further develop my international experience and relationships through the CI Arb's global network and to connect members in London and beyond.

I am very keen to actively contribute to the excellent work of the CI Arb London Branch and to develop relationships with members of the CI Arb London Branch and beyond. I trust that my enthusiasm, experience and professionalism will enable me to further enhance the CI Arb London Branch's reputation in London and internationally.

Thank you for your support in this election.

Yours sincerely,

Sue Kim
